

Farmstead Meats Issues Class I Recall of Jerky Products

Release Date: July 28, 2021

Media Contact: Kevin Hoffman, Public Information Officer, (608) 224-5005, kevin.hoffman@wi.gov

Farmstead Meats is issuing a voluntary Class I recall of packaged jerky products sold from its store in New Franken, WI. The recalled product includes:

- Jerky, various flavors, 1-lb. packages, produced before March 2, 2021

This is a Class I recall resulting from evidence collected during a routine inspection by state inspectors. Evidence shows that the product was not produced with the benefit of inspection or in accordance with the establishment's Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (HACCP) food safety plan. More information on the recall classifications is available below and on U.S. Department of Agriculture website at <https://www.fsis.usda.gov>.

No illnesses have been reported as a result of consuming this product. Anyone with signs or symptoms of a foodborne illness should contact their doctor. Consumers who have any of these products should discard them. Consumers and media with questions about this recall can contact Tammy Lemberger, owner, at (920) 866-2411.

USDA Recall Classifications

Class I	This is a health hazard situation where there is a reasonable probability that the use of the product will cause serious, adverse health consequences or death.
Class II	This is a health hazard situation where there is a remote probability of adverse health consequences from the use of the product.
Class III	This is a situation where the use of the product will not cause adverse health consequences.

###

Find more DATCP news in our newsroom, on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.